Pualani Gardens is a tropical plant nursery located within the grounds of 50 acres on five ocean front properties owned by Michele and Justin Hughes, landowners on Kauai for almost 30 years, in Kilauea, Kauai, Hawaii. These estate grounds, home to a wide variety of tropical palms, plants and flowers, are the source of the raw material used in the nursery. Royal Palms, flowering gingers and over 40 types of Ti plants are some of the wide variety of plants and flowers offered for sale.

Pualani Gardens specializes in plant material that has already adapted to the North Kauai environment. The list below provides a representative sample overview of the current nursery inventory. In addition, mature specimen trees are available.
